Looks like somebody ought to get up a benefit for the Mine Workers and CIO treasurers and union officers. T. W. John Lewis and Phil Murray have quarreled over a million six hundred dollars here and five million there, and whether it was a loan or donation, seems like they must be hard up.

Twenty-one Die In Reprisal

LONDON, June 3.—(AP)—Another 21 Czechs have been put to death in reprisal for the shooting of Reinhard Heydrich, gestapo boss of Czechoslovakia, the Nazi-controlled Prague radio announced today.

These deaths raised to 132 the toll exacted by the Germans since Heydrich was shot just a week ago. Twenty-three of the 132 were women.

The same charges on which most of the others were sent before the rifle squads, harboring agents hostile to the Germans or publicly expressing approval of the Heydrich shooting, were made against the latest group.

Among them were seven who were said to have been Jews, an official of the agriculture ministry and a woman whose husband was a railway controller.

Reports Jewelry And Money Missing

Mrs. Sam Burger, 312 East Fifth street, reported to police officers today that between the hours of 7 and 9 o'clock this morning someone had removed $10 in cash and jewelry, valued at $300, from her home.

Mrs. Burger said she opened her purse to take out some money to pay a bill and found the money, one dollar bills, gone. Investigating she then missed the jewelry, which she said consisted of one ring with two large diamonds, a ring with a cluster of seven diamonds, a ring with one diamond, a man's ring with a diamond setting, and a locket from which the diamond setting was missing, but which contained pearls.

Curry Speaks To M. P. Shop Employees

Urges Naming Street For Late George Whiteman

The Sedalia Booster club held its regular monthly business meeting at the local shops during the noon hour Tuesday, with F. G. Rose, chief booster presiding.

Following the regular transaction of business, Mr. Rose presented Palmer Nichols, former chief booster, who gave a very interesting talk on baseball and made mention of the opening of night baseball in Sedalia this week. The first game to be played was Tuesday night and the second to be played Thursday.

Following the talk by Mr. Nichols the Missouri Pacific Buzz Sawyers, under the direction of Nichols, gave several vocal and musical numbers which were enjoyed by all present as evidenced by the loud applause which greeted each number.

Mr. Rose then made a short talk relative to the purchasing of coal for the coming winter, and urged all to get in their coal supply now, as there will be a shortage of cars this winter.

Curry Presented
Mr. Rose presented J. L. Curry, former chief booster, who is active in the effort to name a street in Sedalia in honor of George Whiteman, Sedalia youth, who gave his life for his country at Pearl Harbor.

Mr. Curry stated his subject was "Whose the responsibility and Whose the Sacrifice in War." This subject, he said, gives one considerable to think of in leisure hours. Things as they might have been and as they are. "How a nation like Italy, that can produce a golden-voiced Caruso, can stoop to follow a bombastic little fellow like Mussolini." "How a cultured nation like Germany, that gave us 'Silent Night,' and sent

Seven Merchant Vessels Sunk

WASHINGTON, June 3.—(AP)—The navy announced today that seven United Nations merchant vessels, including one United States ship, were shelled and sunk in the Bay of Bengal, off India, on April 6.

The navy said: "Seven survivors of a United States merchant vessel which was shelled and sunk by Japanese warships in the Bay of Bengal April 6, 1942, have been landed at Norfolk, Va."

"This was the only United States merchant ship involved in the action, although six other United Nations merchant vessels were shelled and sunk by the same Japanese ships during the engagement."

House Asks For Huge Sum For Agencies

Fewer Peacetime Wants; More Needed For War Effort

WASHINGTON, June 3.—(AP)—A $1,134,269,660 bill for the labor department, social security board and related federal agencies was sent to the house floor by the appropriations committee today.

Partly offsetting the economies—among them big slashes in the allotments for the civilian conservation corps and the national youth administration—were increases in amounts listed as essential to the war effort, leaving a net saving over last year of $120,700,830.

In the report to conserve the committee said that $311,641,400 of the total appropriations was for national defense and that another $760,351,000 was for mandatory items for grants to states for cooperation in programs fixed by law.

Fewer CCC Camps
The committee earmarked $75,180,000—a reduction of $171,142,000 from the 1942 allotments—to maintain 350 CCC camps in contrast to the 1,200 camps at the beginning of the present fiscal year.

Even that sum was granted only after J. J. McEntee, CCC director, insisted that the corps was necessary for work at army cantonments and for forest fire fighting.

The sum of $58,049,000—little more than a third of the $151,767,000 appropriated last year—was set aside for the national

George Welsh Freed On Bond

KANSAS CITY, June 3.—(AP)—George W. Welsh, Jr., charged with the brutal bedroom slaying of his sister, left the county jail today after posting a $10,000 bond following an affirmative ruling by the Kansas City Court of Appeals on his request for a writ of habeas corpus.

When property bonds were signed and qualified, Welsh gathered his belongings at the jail, where he has been held more than four months, and left for home.

Bond signers included Welsh, his mother, Mrs. Marie Welsh, and two uncles, McKee Welsh and Edgar L. Fleming.

"The first thing I'm going to do," Welsh smilingly told jailers as he left his cell, "is to eat a big thick steak with plenty of French fries."

Sugar Rationing Line Fails To Shorten Up—Today

Volunteer registrars did not have to wait for customers in the lobby of the court house this morning when they opened their desks to register Pettis countians for additional sugar rationing. The above line is only a section of the line that reached from the lobby of the court house, across the porch and down the concrete sidewalk, past the American Legion Doughboy.

Several hundred Sedalians and Pettis countians took their turn, and the four members of the Red Cross Canteen, Mrs. H. C. Sammons, Mrs. Frank Coffman, Mrs. E. W. Richardson, with Mrs. Chester Wright, chairman, and regular employees of the Pettis County Defense Council were kept busy from 9 o'clock until 5 o'clock today.

Women members of the canteen and volunteers who will register Thursday are: Mrs. L. J. Banner, Mrs. J. B. Poundstone, Mrs. W. M. Walton and Mrs. E. V. Scifers and for Friday, Mrs. Phil Burford, Mrs. S. E. Bushey, Mrs. Robert L. Hogan and Mrs. H. F. Rapp.

Continuous Bombing Will Bring Results

Public's Morale Will Drop As Cities Are Wrecked

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Wide World War Analyst
Cologne! Essen. And after that! Some twenty-one years ago the late General Giulio Douhet, one time head of Italy's military aviation, advanced a theory which has come to bear his name—that a nation could be forced to surrender in forty-eight hours through systematic destruction of its cities by waves of enemy bombers. Indeed, he gave a hypothetical picture of France and Belgium being plowed under in two days by a mighty German air offensive.

Douhet's idea was that as city after city fell, the morale of the population would go to pieces, and the government would lose all control. Said he:

"It will not be long before the population, driven solely by an instinct of self preservation, will demand cessation of hostilities at any price."

Must Ignore Civilians
The general admitted that in order to effect such destruction it would be necessary to ignore the safety of the civilian population. However, he maintained that such deaths couldn't be avoided in modern warfare.

Well, during the frightful months of August and September two years ago, after the collapse of France, it looked as though Hitler was going to demonstrate in large degree the Douhet theory. Horrible death and devastation poured from the clouds until it seemed that the tortured nerves of the people of Britain could stand no more. But they turned their brave faces to the skies and defied the enemy.

It seemed that Hitler had shown us the limit of bombing possibilities. But two years have brought great changes, and we now see far more powerful air fleets carrying to German cities the catastrophe of which Douhet dreamed.

Cologne Suffers
A huge portion of the ancient Rhenish city of Cologne lies in ruins, and the casualties are said to run to big figures. Rhineland residents reportedly are seeking safety in panicky flight. The neighboring city of Essen, with its vast Krupp armament

June 5 Is Last Filing Date

Nominations for the various county offices, subject to the coming primary election, are not attracting many candidates—at least at the present time—and the filing date ends at midnight June 5. Several offices have but one person filed for the nomination.

For county clerk three have filed, two Democrats and one Republican; for collector, two Democrats and two Republicans; for prosecuting attorney one Democrat, and one Republican; for recorder of deeds, one Democrat and one Republican; judge of probate court, one Republican; for circuit court clerk, one Democrat; for treasurer one Democrat.

Candidate for superintendent of schools, one Democrat; presiding judge of the county court, one Democrat and two Republicans; judge of the western district, one Republican; judge of the eastern district, one Democrat; for state legislator, one Democrat.

Several prospective candidates in both parties have discussed filing, but apparently are waiting to learn who their opponents might be.

Wealthy Indian Takes His Life

PAWHUSKA, Okla., June 3.—(AP)—Assistant County Attorney Russel Havens said today worry over fear of violence in Monday's Osage Indian tribal election apparently caused Lee Pappan, 57, wealthy former tribal council member, to end his life.

Pappan died last night in a Ponca City hospital. He was found wounded in the head at one of his farms, 14 miles west of here yesterday. A pistol was found nearby.

Havens said the position of the gun and the path of the bullet indicated Pappan shot himself.

Doctor Was Employed As German Agent

Told Officers He Didn't Take Job Seriously

LOS ANGELES, June 3.—(AP)—Minneapolis born Dr. Hans Helmut Gros admitted in a purported confession read at his federal court trial that he was employed at $200 a month, plus a 20,000-mark bonus, as a German intelligence agent with the rank of captain.

But he declared he never worked very hard at the job.

Dr. Gros said in the confession that the recently wounded Reinhard Heydrich, No. 2 man of the German Gestapo and his former schoolmate in Saxonia, had instructed him to:

"Organize sabotage, the blowing up of ships, industrial plants and such things.
"Take photographs of harbors and military objectives.
"Furnish information on persons who might be contacted to create strikes."

He said an uncle, Maj. Ans Bebert of the German military intelligence, who got him the job, asked him to:

"Contact John L. Lewis, leader of the CIO, and Harry Bridges, Pacific coast labor leader, to ascertain their attitude on labor problems and their political philosophies and to attempt to make them useful to Germany, if possible."

"Represent the military intelligence of Germany in cooperation with the Japanese intelligence department on the west coast."

But he had no intention of doing any of these things, Dr. Gros said, and sent only newspaper clippings about strikes, unemployment, and airplane production, information such as would be available through German newspapers and magazines.

Fails To Register
Dr. Gros, his wife, Frances, 31, and Albrecht Curt Reuter, 56, German born Beverly Hills art dealer, are charged with failure

Coal Rationing Begins July 1

LONDON, June 3.—(AP)—The government has decided to assume full control of the nation's coal mines and to inaugurate a thorough fuel rationing, it was announced today.

Rationing of coal, coke and fuel is tentatively scheduled to begin July 1, with each person receiving seven and a half hundredweight of coal a year (340 lbs. since the English hundredweight is 112 lbs.)

Rationing of electricity will begin with the first quarter meter reading after Sept. 1. A special additional coal allowance will also be made for each household.

Household coal rations will be based on a formula which includes the locality and the number of rooms and residents.

Parliament is to be given the opportunity to debate the new scheme, which was announced in a white paper.

Son, Back From Balboa, Calls Father

Wilmer Steeples, of the Terry apartments, received a telephone call shortly before noon today from his son, Charles Steeples, who has been in the U. S. Navy about six and one-half years. The call came from Louisiana and the son told his father he had just landed there, from Balboa, Panama Canal Zone, where he had been stationed a year and a half. He was on his way to Norfolk, where he has been assigned in the naval training division.

At Balboa he was assigned on a cruiser.

British Bombers Strike Again At Munitions Center

30,000 Planes May Bomb Germany Every Month

LONDON, June 3.—(AP)—An RAF commentator declared today that air raids on Germany "will get bigger" and asserted that a total of 30,000 planes bombing Germany each month was "not a fantastic figure."

He said the objectives of the terrific raids on Cologne and the Ruhr had been "substantially secured."

"We will repeat the dose and the dose will get bigger," he added. The commentator disclosed that upward of 1,000 fighters had swept over France and escorted shipping Monday between the raid by 1,130 planes on Cologne Saturday night and the 1,035-plane raid on Essen Monday night.

He said the British have the organization to send 2,000 or more bombers, when available, over Germany against one of two targets in the future on each night suitable for raiding.

While it was emphasized that the RAF struck in force, an authoritative statement said "the scale of operations was not comparable with that of the previous night."

"A good deal of smoke and ground haze made observation difficult, but the weather was good and the results are believed to be satisfactory," the statement said.

With daylight, the British round-the-clock air assault continued and RAF fighters and bombers swarmed across the Dover strait toward German-occupied territory.

The air ministry news service said night fighters and bombers, which have run interference for the new-scale British night forays, again took up the offensive last night with raids on air bases, factories, railway lines and army units from Holland to Brittany.

Bomber Docks
The ministry's communique said that besides "large fires" left burning in Essen, German docks were bombed at Dieppe and mines were laid in enemy waters.

Fourteen bombers were reported missing. This compared with 35 which failed to return from the Essen raid Monday night and 44 last Saturday night in the Cologne attack.

(By a comparative scale, this would indicate about 400 bombers were used in the thrust last night.)

Smoke From Former Fires
The fact that smoke still was rising from stricken areas of Essen attested anew to the severity of the bombing of that city of blast furnaces, factories and mine-linked railways 24 hours earlier.

Two German planes gave London its first night alert for seven months, scattering a few incendiaries in the suburbs. Authorities said they caused no damage. It was the first time since last November 1 that bombs had fallen in the capital.

A small number of other Nazi aircraft attacked points in southern England, a communique said. Four of the raiders were reported destroyed.

All Departments Call 1000

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON AND ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON, June 3—It has been obscured by the battles of Kharkov, Burma and Kinkwa but behind the scenes, a battle just as important domestically has been raging between Secretary of War Stimson and trust-busting Thurman Arnold over whether the big corporations which monopolized war materials with Germany should be punished, or permitted to continue their monopolies.

Secretary Stimson doesn't want these big firms bothered with anti-trust suits, and some weeks ago wrote a letter to the White House demanding that they be stopped. Thurman Arnold, he said, was playing into Hitler's hands by nagging the big companies while they were filling war orders.

Roosevelt, grinning, gave the letter to Attorney General Biddle. Biddle, also grinning, gave it to Arnold. And Arnold wrote Stimson a letter which nearly raised the roof of the war department. He pointed out that there was no use fighting Hitler if U. S. industry was going to practice the same kind of monopolistic, cut throat tactics as Nazi business.

Temporarily, however, the war department won out. The justice department finally agreed to hold up prosecution of certain cases, among them General Electric's monopoly of fluorescent lamps, on the ground that General Electric officials were so busy with war production they did not have time to appear in court.

They Found Time
But suddenly Thurman Arnold learned that although General Electric did not have time to be prosecuted, they did have time to prosecute on their own another company, High Grade Sylvania, for alleged violation of G. E.'s monopoly of fluorescent lighting.

So Arnold stepped into this private legal battle and asked that the government be made a party to the suit. The effect of this was to contend that General Electric had no right to its patent monopoly, and that High Grade Sylvania was entitled to manufacture fluorescent lamps.

Arnold also told General Electric that he intended to indict them every month.

Next day, Arnold got a phone call from the war department. "We withdraw our objection to prosecuting General Electric," was the order.

General Electric had decided that it was better to face one government suit than to have the government intervene in its private suits. So it told its friend, the war department, to throw in the sponge.

Insiders consider it the most significant anti-trust victory in some time.

White House Barrages
As Cordell Hull looks out of the windows of his office he sees trees being trucked away from the park just south of the State Department and a steam shovel digging foundations for something. A kibitzer watching the steam-shovel shouted to the operator: "What's going up here?" "Huh?" said the operator. "What are you building?" "I don't know," he replied. "I never heard nobody say."

And he resumed the business of digging up the park.

The answer is that barracks are to be built here, to house soldiers detailed to guard the White House State Department and Treasury buildings. At present, the men have to come all the way from Fort Myer, across the river.

Flanked by the state department, the White House, the Corcoran Gallery of Art, and the laws that sweep up to the Washington Monument, these will be the most exclusive and richly located quarters in Washington. Many a high powered business man, turned away from the best

Crochet a Midsummer Snood

By MRS. ANNE CABOT

Snoods make headlines these days—and quite rightly! They're the prettiest sort of flattery head-gear we've seen in years! I snatched this one for myself as soon as it was completed. It will be lovely with a dark silk dress for the hot days of midsummer.

So simple to make—and so completely handsome! It's really just a big flat piece of single crochet mesh with long ends that tie under the hair in back. Takes 10 yards of narrow grograin bow. This one is made of 1 large ball of crocheted cotton, size 40. The ribbon is navy blue. If you don't want a white snood, choose another color and put bright silk ribbon fringe on it. Dark blue snood with Kelly green ribbon, for instance.

Rank Doesn't Count
One of the best things efficient Gen. Allan Gullion did after becoming provost marshal was to bring Gen. Pelham D. (Happy) Glassford from his Arizona ranch and place him in charge of the army's "internal security." This means the protection of industrial supplies, warehouses, equipment, etc. inside the United States.

Considering the number of aliens in the country, and the opportunities for sabotage, this is one of the toughest and most important jobs in the home army.

To thousands of World War veterans, Gen. "Happy" Glassford will always be remembered as a friend. He was Washington's police chief during the march of the "bonus army," dealt compassionately with the penniless veterans, set up soup kitchens, raised money to feed them.

Glassford holds the rank of brigadier general, retired, in the regular army but was so anxious to get back into service that he accepted a much lower rank, that of lieutenant colonel in the new "Army of the United States."

Many other retired regular army officers are doing the same, including James E. Fehet, former chief of the air corps, who retired with the rank of major general but is now a colonel. The other day Fehet telephoned Glassford and said:

"Hap, have you been promoted yet?"

"Yes," replied Glassford, "I was just raised from the rank of lieutenant colonel to colonel."

"O. K.," said Fehet. "Your son was about to be made a lieutenant colonel, and I didn't want to promise him until I was sure his old man was one rank ahead of him."

Tuesday Night Drills Off For Summer

The regular Tuesday night drills which have been held throughout the winter and spring of Company F, Fourth Missouri Infantry, have been cancelled for the summer months, Lieut. Ellsworth Green, Jr., announced Tuesday night. The Thursday night practice drills will continue, Green said.

A drive is being made to raise the membership of the Sedalia company. At present there about 40 men in the guard, and 20 more are desired.

Charged With Petit Larceny

John Fry, nicknamed "Tipton Slim" was arrested Tuesday on a petit larceny charge, and has been placed in the Pettis county jail. The warrant was issued through Prosecuting Attorney L. J. Harned.

JUNE ENLISTS

CHAPTER XIX

SOMEONE was standing in the corridor; someone's hand was on the knob of the door. Talcott was in a terrible spot then. If this were Halsey returning, he would spend the rest of his ship-board days in the brig. If it were the steward, wondering why he took so long, he would be a little better off. But he would have to show the envelope to prove good faith and the steward, when Halsey's search began, would remember. Why, he thought agonizedly, couldn't I have said a magazine?

The fumbling at the knob stopped and knuckles sounded against the polished wood panel. That wouldn't be Halsey. "Who's there?" Talcott called.

"Constantine," the professor's voice quavered. "Didn't get a chance to speak to you in the dining room—Is your headache any better?"

Blessed relief! "Quite, thank you," trying to make his voice sound like Halsey's.

"May I come in?"

"Not just now. I'm dressing."

"Oh." Disappointment. Then, "All right. See you on deck."

Talcott waited, counting to 20 by hundreds, and with the envelope tucked under his arm, stepped nonchalantly to the corridor. The professor was gone and the steward was nowhere in sight. A short distance aft a couple blocked the passageway, discussing plans for the evening.

What to do with the envelope. Put it back? Halsey would immediately see the rip in the flap and would naturally assume that the true contents had been appropriated and blank paper substituted. No. Better to take the thing and leave it overboard. Unless—Could Struthers' report be written in invisible ink? Under ordinary circumstances such a thing would have smacked too much of fiction. Now, he wasn't so sure.

He couldn't hide it in his cabin. Search and discovery would leave him without a straw of defense. No. Find a hiding place, and soon. There wasn't much time—

He found it. In, of all places, the fire hose locker right beside the door to Halsey's stateroom. Only a snap-catch held its glass-enclosed front and Talcott, swinging out the ribbon-racked hose, placed the envelope behind.

HE was pacing the deck when he saw a lone figure leaning over the rail, watching the moon. It was June Paterson and at his approach she glanced up and then hastily away. "Hello," she said dispiritedly.

"Hello yourself," he replied with forced joviality. "Where are the rest of our playmates?"

"If you mean Martha Swenson, she's with the doctor. Looking at the moon. Maybe you'd like to join her."

He tucked her hand under his arm. "Let's find a couple of chairs and look at the moon ourselves. That is, if you can stand my company."

She didn't answer that, but she accompanied him. Which in itself was an answer of sorts. Forward they found two unoccupied chairs, a little apart from the others.

"You like to sit beside me?" asked June, as they sat watching the moon's path on the water.

"I do."

"Are you sure you trust me?"

"More than I trust myself."

She sighed. "I'm terribly glad. Really, I'm not a bad person. I just have the unhappy faculty of hurting most the people I want to hurt the least."

"I suppose you refer to your spying on MacDowell and me back on Abas Island?"

Her head turned quickly. "Spying? Do you mean the time I walked into MacDowell's room? I wasn't spying. You were so wrapped up in yourselves you didn't even hear me. And I was a little bit angry with you because you wouldn't take Leonard Halsey's suggestion."

"Halsey's?"

"Yes. It was he who told MacDowell to remind you of your rights of fighting extradition if you so desired. Didn't MacDowell tell you that?"

So that was how it was. MacDowell, still groggy from the blow on his head, had forgotten who gave him the idea. No wonder Halsey's attitude had changed. Halsey had been trying to help him, Halsey and the girl. Sighing he said, "I'm sorry June. I owe both you and Halsey an apology. I'm pretty much mixed up."

"I'm not surprised. I've kept silent because you acted so darned formal and disapproving."

Our Congressman Says . . .

Gas rationing isn't needed in Missouri. The average man knows he can't get tires and conserves them voluntarily without aid of a rationing. In fact, the marketing chairman, B. L. Majewski, of Petroleum Industry Committee for District Two (16 mid-west states) appointed by petroleum coordinator and interior secretary, Harold Ickes, has tossed a bombshell into the plan by stating, "Analysis of civilian use of gasoline in the middle west proves conclusively the average motorist has reduced his mileage at least 25 per cent and is driving at greatly reduced speed to conserve his tires." Why then ration gas in the name of conserving rubber? It would seem a paternal government is saying, in effect, "You must be protected against yourself. You are too ignorant to manage your own affairs. We know what's good for you and are going to see you get it whether you like it or not."

This regulating for the sake of regulating won't promote unity among men who like freedom. It won't help win the war. Dictatorial plans going beyond this objective aren't welcome. In the east there is a genuine gas shortage because of transportation difficulties, necessitating rationing. Unless there is great public protest, rationing will apply also to the gasoline producing regions after about July.

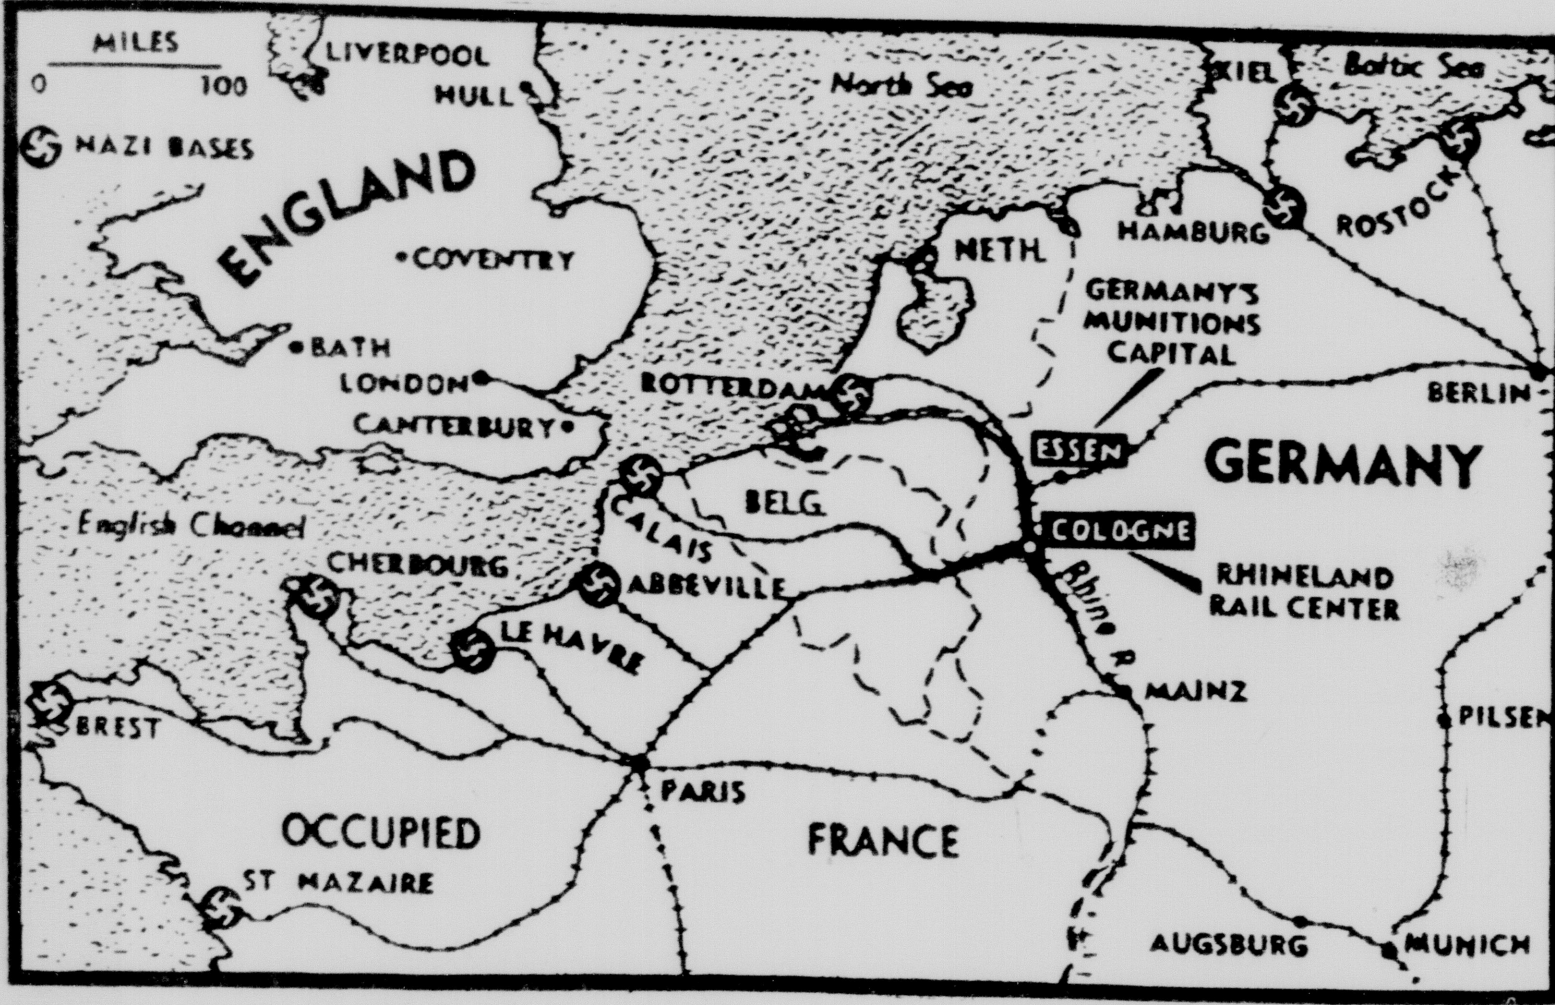

Conflicting statements of authorities handling the problem, and plans going beyond war requirements, have caused Washington observers to wonder just "what is in the air." It is pointed out here that for awhile there was much talk, never denied in responsible quarters, that elections would be called off this fall because of war. This was too crude (bad as court packing) for certain master minds who now are reported quietly to chuckle that gas rationing may achieve the same result if nation wide. The theory is that in the independent rural districts of the middle west there is strong evidence of voter dissatisfaction and which may well throw out the leadership of the majority party in congress. But, and here is the point, will rural voters, especially if November weather is bad and they have no gasoline, vote on election day? Will they walk to the polls to keep alive in America what their sons are dying on foreign shores to preserve—namely, their right to select their own leaders at the ballot box? Thus does the jigsaw puzzle fit together?

Some will get gas. They will be the bureaucrats who fear the public would like to turn them out of their fat jobs. They have government owned cars and unlimited gas rations in the east now. No one objects to the president, head of the executive department, having cars and chauffeurs paid for by the taxpayers. However, members of the other departments of government, the supreme court and congress, pay for their own cars, license plates and gasoline. I took my car back to Missouri recently "for the duration" and am paying street car and taxi fare to run around for you here in Washington. Not so with the big shot bureaucrats in the executive department, who are appointed, not elected. Brace yourself, here comes the facts:

The total number of passenger cars (not including trucks, rented cars, or those of the president himself or of the War and Navy Departments) paid for by you for federal job holders to run around in is 18,984. Think of it—18,984 government owned cars! Figures on their purchase price are not available. However, operating cost last year was $4,814,561 for these cars. They traveled 211,866,978 miles. There are 522 full time chauffeurs and 340 part time. Cost of the chauffeurs for the various bureaus of the executive department is more than $1,000,000 per year. Not all the bureaucrats can rate a car. However, most of them have travel expense accounts. Last year their travel allowances were $147,000,000. All of the foregoing was just for non-defense agencies! Just a word about chauffeurs. The coordinator of information has 6 autos and for these 6 autos has 17 chauffeurs. The federal security agency has 3,104 autos with 66 full time chauffeurs and 8 part time. The WPA has 982 autos and 42 chauffeurs. The story goes on and on and is too long to set forth here in full. But, it's all in the Congressional Record of May 15th. The job holders will have enough cars to get their gang to the polls election day. They have plenty of gasoline and plenty of tires. They also have certain ideas about what they want to do to members of congress who dare to reveal what they are doing with Mr. Taxpayer's money. It remains to be seen whether Mr. and Mrs. Taxpayer are interested enough to take a long walk to the polls on election day through rain, snow—possibly over a bad road.

Do I over emphasize the danger of Communism in America? Are the Commies really more noisy than powerful? The president didn't think so when in the name of "unity" he felt it necessary to recognize the power of American Communists and "appeased" them through granting Earl Browder a

State Highway Magnet Completes Coverage Of State Division Four

JEFFERSON CITY, June 3.—The Missouri State Highway Department's road magnet has completed its operation in division four, working out of Kansas City, and motorists in eleven west Missouri counties may now drive with greater security, Carl W. Brown, chief engineer, declared.

The machine operated thirty days (April 23 to May 27), picking up puncture-producing scrap metal on granular surfaces. Covering 726 miles, the magnet recovered a total of 3,640 pounds of scrap, or an average of approximately five pounds per mile. There are 812 miles of granular surfaces in division four.

The report for division four follows:

The magnet is now in Division 1, working out of St. Joseph. Before the end of the year it plans to cover the entire state-maintained system of granular-type surfaced roads.

Lumber For Completion Of Housing Units

Go Ahead Signal From WPB For Many Projects

WASHINGTON, June 3.—(AP)—More than 100,000 of the most "essential" war housing units now under construction—involving 76 publicly-financed projects in 25 states and 51,350 privately-financed units in 20 states—were given the official go ahead signal by WPB Tuesday.

Work on virtually all otherwise would have been stopped because of the "freeze" of supplies of construction lumber. John B. Blandford, Jr., national housing administrator, reported.

Under the special relief order, WPB will issue an overall authorization permitting contractors on these specific projects to obtain enough lumber to complete them, it was understood.

Officials said that only about half of the publicly-financed work already started was included in the approved list and the fate of the others already under construction remained uncertain. In making the list of approved projects public, WPB emphasized the present demand for lumber "greatly exceeds the supply" and that even contractors who receive authorizations to purchase lumber could not expect prompt delivery in every instance.

Projects given the go ahead signal and the number of dwelling units involved in each, included:

Public projects:
Kansas—Parsons, 400 units.
Wichita, 2,300.
Private projects:
Kansas—Parsons, 125 units.
Wichita, 2,000.

No Missouri projects are included in the list.

MAX CALDWELL

When the story of Max Caldwell's flogging first burst into screaming headlines, the whole country was astounded. Why had two sedate, dignified school teachers whipped this young man almost into unconsciousness? Why had he submitted? What were the innuendoes about the date the year before?

The newspapers didn't say—and even the legal moves which followed didn't tell the real truth behind this story. Not until now has that truth been released to the public. Not until Max Caldwell consented to write his own account of what happened, have all the secrets of the flogging and its cause been revealed in their pitiless, intimate details.

Don't miss that story. It's a vital, human document, written by a vital, human youth. What really happened that night of the date? What about the two different women, each of whom expected a doctor to marry her? Gas Rationing Decision In Next Few Days

Possibly Will Be Announced Before Tuesday

WASHINGTON, June 3.—(AP)—Chairman Donald M. Nelson of the war production board said Tuesday night that a decision on nationwide gasoline rationing possibly would be announced before next Tuesday.

Nelson said WPB took no definite action at a meeting this afternoon, but had "gone over the whole question" of the nation's rubber shortage and had discussed the proposed rationing with all interested government officials.

Asked whether the final decision would be left up to President Roosevelt, Nelson said that it might be but added:

"Or he may ask us to make it—we're ready either way."

In addition to Petroleum Coordinator Ickes, other government officials attending today's WPB session included Archibald MacLeish, director of the office of facts and figures.

Voice Strong Opposition
On Capitol Hill, meanwhile, midwestern senators cut across party lines to express opposition to possible extension of rationing to the mid-continent.

Senator Langer (R-N. D.) said he would back Senator Connally (D-Tex.) "to the utmost" in the Texan's demand for a full open hearing before any additional rationing order was issued.

Taking notice of reports that midwestern motorists might be limited to an average of 5 gallons of gasoline a week by mid-July or August 1, Senator Capper (R-Kas.) declared that such an order would "wreak a great hardship on the people and be disastrous to that part of the country."

"I'm very much opposed to any rationing program, and I don't think five gallons would take care of the people in that area," Capper said.

"There has been an overwhelming protest all over the middle west against gasoline rationing, especially in the states which are the largest oil producers."

Connally said he favored making every sacrifice necessary to win the war.

However, he added, "in states where refineries are producing more gasoline than can be consumed under present conditions and where such gasoline is readily accessible to the consuming public, there seems no logic in requiring that such consumers be rationed."

Connally and other oil state senators recently met and urged Donald Nelson, director of the war production board, and Leon Henderson, price administrator, to hear from the lawmakers, the oil industry and citizens generally.

Senator Brooks (R-Ill.) saw a possible way out in the nation's surplus grain stocks.

"Before they ration gasoline in the midwest," Brooks declared, "the government should make every effort to utilize the grain of the mid-west to produce the rubber which would make gasoline rationing unnecessary."

Mrs. Sarah M. L. Berry

Funeral services for Sarah Melissa Linville Berry, who died at the age of 93 Wednesday, May 27, were held Friday afternoon at the Huston-Turner funeral home in Windsor, with the Rev. E. B. Woods of Versailles, a former pastor of the Ionia Christian church, officiating. He had been a friend of the deceased for more than 30 years.

to register as German agents and conspiring to transmit to Germany information concerning national defense preparations.

Mrs. Gros said in a purported statement read in court that before they were married Dr. Gros told her she could earn $200 a month for one to five hours' work a week clipping articles about U. S. military and naval affairs, airplane production, ship sailings and compiling lists of key defense positions in California.

"Helmut asked me to become a German agent," a quotation from her diary read: "I did not accept."

Threatened Harm
When, after their marriage, the statement said, she threatened to tell the FBI of her husband's activities, Dr. Gros told her the Gestapo had agents "all over the United States" and harm would come to her if she exposed him.

She said Dr. Gros told her he not only had aided the Nazis in obtaining control of Germany, but once had posed as a French military officer to carry money to German spies in Paris, posed as a priest on a similar mission in Poland, and was dropped by parachute to deliver a message to Nazi agents there.

"I have every right to be a spy," she quoted him.

Dr. Gros said in his statement that he had never told Reuter he was working for the Nazi government. Reuter, he said, addressed for him some envelopes in which to send clippings.

works, has undergone a similar experience, and Hitler's main source of munitions has been given a terrific blasting.

And this is only the beginning of a systematic destruction of the German cities, one by one. British Premier Churchill has promised that, and has added grimly that the assault will be intensified soon, when the American fleet joins the royal air force in this unprecedented offensive.

To what ends will such striking power carry the allies? Right here I think we should regard with reserve predictions that the Anglo-American air forces can reduce the Germans to impotence without the necessity of opening a second land front in western Europe. That is assuming more than present facts warrant, although there's no harm in hoping it may come true.

Germans Feeling War

German civilians for the first time are being made to feel the weight of all-out war such as their fuhrer thrust upon the world. They escaped the manhandling in the last conflict, and had hoped to avoid it on a large scale in this one.

Will German morale stand this new terror? Time alone will tell. Who can say that human nerves can endure what the allies are now handing out, and undoubtedly will intensify?

What we do know is that the Nazi chief is being dealt a fierce and perhaps irreparable blow, in the destruction of industries. We lack details about Krupp, but the loss of any considerable portion of this mainstay of German arms would be a major disaster for the Nazis.

Will Lack Supplies

If the allies are able to continue this great aerial offensive, the German armies soon will feel the pinch of lack of supplies. That will be a heavy setback at a moment when Hitler wants every ounce of strength to try for a decision this summer—Likely his last chance. Of great importance, too, is the fact that a large proportion of his fighting planes (the British say fifty per cent) must be held in the western theatre to protect against these raids while his Russian line is correspondingly weakened in the face of a hard hitting Red army.

There is another side to the matter, though. There are likely to be heavy reprisals in kind, and civilian populations increasingly will be caught and crushed in the mills of the gods of war.

Twenty Days In Jail For Taking Onions

John "Tipton Slim" Fry, arrested by the police for petit larceny in connection with taking onions out of the garden of Ellis Morris, 1120 East Fourth street, was sentenced to twenty days in the county jail after pleading guilty to Judge C. W. Bente, sitting ex-officio justice of the peace. Fry told the court he only wanted a few onions.

Norris reported that last year his garden was the victim of petit thieves.

Only five of the 140 islands in the Scilly group are inhabited.

the lovable Schumann Heineck to sing it, can refute the God that song glorifies and replace Him with an egotistical paperhanger named Shicklegrober. "How a nation like Japan, that cherishes honor to the extent that it will do anything to save its face can deliberately dishonor itself before the whole world. "Who is responsible for these wars and who pays for them?" Continuing, he said:

"If someone were to ask us who pays, we would probably stick out our chins and say we do. We would probably tell of the taxes we pay and the bonds we buy. We might boast of what a vital job we hold. How essential the railroads are and what a good job we are doing. All these things are or can be true, dependent entirely on how patriotic we are and how willing we are to translate that patriotism into action. But you and I are not paying the cost of war. Our efforts are but the interest.

Quotes Churchill
"Winston Churchill said this war can only be won by blood and sweat and tears." You and I will have to sweat, and there are those who will shed bitter tears in the anguish of their bereavement, but the blood is given by the youths of America.

"Somehow they are not given to futile fears. They are too busy trying to put out the fire started by your generation and mine. In the last war I remember they said it was a 'war to end all wars.' 'Twas a beautiful slogan and the war was won. Then came the Versailles treaty. The greatest hoax ever perpetrated in modern times. And following it the greatest era of indolence, criminal negligence and indifference ever known to man."

"Someone said 'The pen is mightier than the sword.' This has proven to be true. The war won so valiantly by the youths of 1914 with the sword, was lost by a stroke of the pen in the hand of their elders. And now our sons are carrying the torch.

America Has Power
"America was the balance of power that won the war then, just as she will be in this one. If we had thrown our might into that post-war struggle for world peace the destruction of Ethiopia and the horror in China would have been unwritten history."

"So far this war has no name—We are at a loss to know what to call it. Frankly, I don't believe there has ever been a word coined in any language that is horrible enough. Ordinarily one wants a little bit of horror he slips back into the dark ages to Attila the Hun, the scourge of God. 'I bathe my mighty limbs in the blood of mine enemies'—and he did it. Of course, since then the world has become civilized. More refined. Even cruelty is refined. We know right from wrong and we know better how to apply our cruelty."

Dreamed of Peace
"France fell, as did Poland, Holland, Czechoslovakia, Greece. All because they had permitted themselves to be included in a somnambulistic dream of peace by craven statesmen."

"Our youth of today are facing a hard battle and it is up to each one of us to do our part. I want to give credit where credit is due—to the sons of America. If sweat and tears is to be our part, let's take it out in sweating and give the tears to the axis, for they will need them. Our future activity is the real issue. The railroads and our jobs are of vital importance to America today. We have done a good job in the past. If you are buying all the bonds you can afford, you are just doing your duty, that's all, but if you are not, you are not living up to your heritage."

Dollars Steps To Victory
"Each dollar given is a step taken towards victory. Each dollar withheld is blood money. The blood of some mother's son. We say, the white in our flag is the white of purity, liberty, freedom, justice to all; the blue is the blue of firmament, God given, from when all blessedness came; the red is martyrs blood—patriots of past days and present."

Mr. Curry spoke of several heroes in the past and of the present war and at this time made mention of George Whiteman, Sedalia youth who was killed in the raid on Pearl Harbor. "I have here in my hand a small box and in this box is a medal of the highest honor that was to be pinned on the chest of a hero but instead it lies here in a box."

"George Whiteman died a martyr and I am very much in favor of honoring him to the extent of naming a street or park in the city of Sedalia after him."

Tribute To Whiteman
In closing his talk Mr. Curry made mention that ordinarily we give a speaker a round of applause for his talk but he did not want this and suggested that all present stand on their feet and with bared heads, and in silence, do honor to those who have passed on in the line of duty to their country and to the ones who eventually will do likewise.

Following the talk by Mr. Curry the Sedalia Booster club went on record as heartily endorsing the movement now underway in the city to honor George Whiteman by naming a street after him.

Superintendent Talks
G. T. Callender, superintendent of shops, closed the meeting with a very forcible talk relative to solicitation of business, both passenger and freight. He said our trains can haul more freight and urged all to double their efforts and secure as much as possible.

Mr. Callender then gave an interesting talk on the subject of scrap and stated we must have more scrap, and urged all employees to get behind this movement and save material that cannot be used to put in places provided for. "We must have scrap to win this war and I am going to do everything possible to get this scrap and turn it over to the right people."

Buying Bonds
In closing his talk Mr. Callender spoke relative to the selling of Defense Bonds and stated that the Sedalia Missouri Pacific shops were 100% now and he is proud of the efforts put forth by the employees to make this possible. He stated the supervisors of the shop had been handed stickers, showing that the one who received one of these was a member of the "Bonds For Victory Club," composed of Missouri Pacific lines employees who, for the duration of the war, have pledged themselves to invest a portion of each month's pay check in U. S. War Bonds.

As the employees left the boiler shop they were handed these stickers by supervisors and the Buzz Sawyers played musical numbers until the shop was emptied of all employees.

Few Changes On Stock Market

NEW YORK, June 3.—(AP)—The mood of indecision persisted in today's stock market, providing few notable price changes except in specialties.

Most leaders remained within small margins of the Tuesday closings. Steels and motors were a shade lower. Rails, rubbers, aircrafts and merchandising stocks were slightly irregular and coppers steady. In the final hour advances and declines were about in balance.

Showing little animation at any time volume totaled about 275,000 shares.

House Asks For Huge Sum For Agencies

young administration. The committee declared the reduction would require abandonment of a number of its local shops and "other projects."

Prefer Industrial Training
Meanwhile, it suggested that the NYA should "restrict its activities to the type of industrial training necessary to the war effort, and should not be permitted to enlarge in any other educational activity." It incorporated a provision requiring each individual given NYA training to sign an agreement to accept employment, when offered, in a defense industry.

In general, there was little change in the committee's recommendations on the amounts available for the federal executive agency's program for grants to states.

The committee approved a $452,697 allotment for the department of labor's conciliation service, only $3,080 less than the budget bureau recommended, after hearing the labor secretary, Frances Perkins say on March 10 that the incidence of strikes after Pearl Harbor has been "almost nothing."

But she said then that there has been "a great increase in the number of cases that we classify as disputes."

Health Work Satisfactory
In approving an allotment for the public health service to fight venereal disease, the committee declared that "the work in this field to date has been highly satisfactory and it is to the credit of local officials that it has been necessary in only one instance to invoke the May act, which authorizes the secretary of navy and the secretary of war to establish zones around military or naval establishments in which prostitution would be prohibited and punishable as a federal offense."

BOMBERS—A THOUSAND OF THEM—OVER COLOGNE

This gives you an idea of the British bombing force that obliterated a good share of Cologne. An even 1,000 bombers are sketched in the box. The British had 500 more raiding nearby in the Ruhr and Rhineland the same night. Picture was made during an earlier daylight raid on Cologne. (NEA Photo).

BEAT THE HEAT

Stamps For Minnie To Buy Bomber

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., June 3.—(P)—It's getting so folks aren't surprised any more when total strangers ask:

"Have you bought your stamp for Minnie?" The late Minnie was a cat and with a thousand pals and when she died—after bearing 147 kittens, her admirers claim—her many mourners hit upon the idea of filling a large war stamp album as a memorial. It's filling rapidly and proceeds are to go for a bomber.

Hitler didn't kill Minnie but the taxi drivers and bartenders who were her particular pals feel that her gay existence along the streets and in the pubs wouldn't have been possible under Nazi rule. They don't think Hitler would have liked happy, un-disciplined, democratic Minnie and they're sure Minnie wouldn't have liked Hitler. So the book fills up.

More Sinkings Of Ships By U-Boat Attacks

But Forty-One Are Dead Or Missing From Nine Down

(By The Associated Press)

Deadly torpedoes have blasted nine more ships to the bottom of the Atlantic in intensified U-boat warfare but the loss of life was small, the navy reported Tuesday night in a 3-day resume of announced sinkings.

Only 41 seamen were listed as dead or missing from the nine vessels and incomplete survivors totals showed at least 286 sailors landed safely.

Three announced sinkings yesterday boosted the toll in Atlantic and adjacent waters since the start of the war to 236. Six had been reported the previous two days.

Fifty-nine seamen from a 67-man crew survived the torpedoing of a large American motorship in the Caribbean sea northwest of Trinidad. The men were picked up by a United States ship one day after the sinking, which occurred May 17. They said that enemy projectiles exploded ammunition in the ship with a terrific blast.

Only one man was killed when a Panamanian merchant ship plunged to the bottom after a torpedo hit in the Atlantic. The attack took place May 20 and 44 survivors were rescued by an American naval vessel.

Eight Days In Lifeboats
Led by plucky Capt. Angus Shaw, the full crew of 61 from a British merchant ship landed at an Atlantic port after sailing for eight days in open lifeboats. During a storm the three boats became separated but the men were so sure of their course that they declined to be rescued by an outboard ship and continued on to land. Most of the men were eating when the first missile ripped into the side of the vessel and they were within 200 yards of the stricken vessel when a second torpedo crashed into the engine room.

"I'd give the teeth out of my head (They're of the store variety) if they'd give me something to hunt those submarines with," snapped bronzed Captain Shaw, a veteran of 42 years at sea. "A sensation of absolute vindictive bitterness swept over me when I saw my ship go down."

Meanwhile, additional details were given from the sinking of a small U. S. cargo ship May 20 in the Gulf of Mexico. The stories of two rescued seamen disclosed a probable loss of 39 lives, the biggest toll of any gulf sinking.

John G. Traubal of Gibbstown, N. J., and Rolf Heland of Philadelphia, both suffered from blindness and exposure and it took physicians two hours to remove the heavy oil coating which encased them.

The two said their ship was attacked by two submarines and collapsed "like an accordion" when hit from two sides almost simultaneously. A third survivor, Joseph Shackelford of Severn, Va., was taken to a Mexican port.

Files For Schools Superintendent

JEFFERSON CITY, June 3.—(P)—Roy Scantlin of Neosho, Newton county school superintendent since 1927, today entered the race for the Republican nomination for state superintendent of schools.

Scantlin will be opposed by Lance Duff of Eldorado Springs in the Republican primary. Lloyd W. King, seeking his third term, and C. F. Scotton of Sedalia have filed for the Democratic nomination.

The Republican field in the 12th district congressional race grew to four today with the entry of Josephus M. Todd of Webster Graves and Daniel M. Kerckhoff of Crescent. Walter Floesser, the incumbent, and Roland H. Holl filed previously for the Republican nomination.

Two Rioters Are Killed At Nassau

NASSAU, Bahamas, June 3.—(delayed by censor)—Unskilled laborers on a large American project staged a demonstration in Nassau Monday, smashing show windows and looting fashionable stores, and two of the rioters were killed and others wounded before police and troops restored partial order.

While the Duke of Windsor interrupted a business trip in Washington to hasten back, conditions remained unsettled.

A curfew from 8 p. m. to 6 a. m. was established by the acting governor, Social Secretary W. L. Heape.

The demonstrators were protesting against wages of four shillings (about 80 cents a day) for unskilled labor on the project.

Disturbances Continued
WASHINGTON, June 3.—(P)—The state department received word Tuesday night that labor disturbance in Nassau, Bahamas, which started yesterday, continued until the arrival of military police at noon today but that "no further rioting was anticipated."

Mrs. Robert Allen of Perry, Mo., and her sister, Mrs. Dorothy Sullivan honored Mrs. A. J. Hall, a recent bride, at a bridge party Wednesday night at the home of their mother, Mrs. John L. Sullivan, 418 East Seventh street.

First award went to Mrs. Walter Schindler and consolation to Miss Mildred Sutherland. The hostesses presented Mrs. Hall with a gift, and another to Mrs. Al Miles, who is leaving soon to reside in St. Louis.

Other guests at the party were Miss Christine Jones, Miss Sadie Foster, Mrs. Albert Steiner and Miss Maxine Pettijohn.

Mrs. Henry Wiederhold of Alvin, Texas, a sister of the hostesses, and her husband, Lieutenant Wiederhold, who are visiting his family in Chicago, will return here Thursday, leaving the next day for Texas. Other guests over the week-end will be John L. Sullivan of Concordia and his bride of last Monday.

The June-July social committee at the Country club met Tuesday to make arrangements for activities during the coming weeks, and one of the features will be Sunday night suppers.

Serving will be from 5:30 until 9 o'clock, and reservations for the plate suppers should be made with Mrs. Mary Palmer, stewardess at the club, by Sunday morning.

Mrs. George H. Trader, chairman, presided over the committee meeting held at the clubhouse.

Miss Gloria Jean Martin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Martin, and Mr. Leland Donley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Porter Donley, all of Clarksburg, were married at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon at Centertown by the Rev. Stewart McDaniel at his home there.

Merchants Lose 12 to 8 To Red Birds

Strong De Spain Club Plays Here Thursday Night

The Jefferson City Red Birds defeated the Sedalia Merchants in their first night game of the season in a hit and run game Tuesday night under the lights at the Liberty Park diamond by a score of 12 to 8.

Thomas started on the mound for the Merchants and pitched a fair game but had a bad inning in the first when the visitors made four hits good for four runs. In the seventh he allowed three hits and two walks, which with an error netted the Red Birds an additional four runs in that frame. He was then relieved by Coffelt who pitched good ball the rest of the way.

Townley on the mound for Jefferson City was hit hard but was accorded good support and was permitted to stay through the game.

Zey led the attack for the Merchants with three doubles and Coffelt secured two hits for the Merchants.

B. Townley for the Red Birds had three hits.

Sports Roundup
By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
Wide World Sports Columnist
NEW YORK, June 3—The U. S. Golf Association, which drew a lot of criticism for its hasty cancellation of the Open and Amateur championships, seems to be making a great comeback with the Hale America Open tournament.

The sectional qualifying rounds this week end will take in virtually all the top ranking pros and amateurs available and the ones who don't have to qualify will play exhibitions anyway. About the only important names we can think of that will be missing are Sam Snead, Porky Oliver, Bud Ward, Willie Turnesa, Charlie Yates and Johnny Fisher, who will be too busy with their army and navy duties.

Corp. Jim Turnesa, the army's No. 1 golfer right now, reports his putting was so hot during the PGA tournament because he didn't have much chance to practice anything else.

Defeat Boston 4-5; Dodgers Get 20 Hits To Beat Pirates

BY JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer
If there ever are times that Frank (Onkel Frank) Frisch yearns to return to radio announcing today must be one of them.

The Pittsburgh Pirates, who started the season in splendor, have become more futile and pathetic than even the Philadelphia Phils, who haven't been out of the National League cellar since the first day of the campaign.

Pirates Lose 10 Straight
Pittsburgh has lost ten straight games and 16 of its last 18 and was humiliated yesterday by the worst thrashing of the season in the senior circuit—17 to 2 by the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Just before the Dodgers barged in, Manager Frisch optimistically asserted that the Pirates would get going soon. "We aren't this bad a ball club," he claimed. "We can't be."

But the Dodgers yesterday made 20 hits—including five in succession by Pete Reiser—while rookie Les Webber was checking Pittsburgh on five.

There were two other five-hit pitching performances in the National League yesterday—thrown against each other by old St. Johnson and young Elmer Riddle in a 10-inning duel which the Phils took from the Cincinnati Reds 1-0.

Over the regulation route Riddle, who has won only one game this season and lost six, allowed three hits while Johnson was giving five. Then in the tenth the Phils pushed across the lone run on two singles, an error and a long fly by Tommy Livingston.

Some Phone, Eh?
Eddie Collins tells one about the time Tom Yawkey telephoned from Alaska to ask how the Red Sox were doing. They were a run behind in the ninth, and Yawkey listened to a ball-by-ball description until Jimmy Foxx fanned with a man on base. Then he hung up the phone in disgust, and it wasn't until two weeks later that he learned Joe Cronin had socked the next pitch for a game winning homer.

Games Played Tuesday Night Are One-sided

Three Games End At Close Of The Fifth Inning

One sided games were played in the Tuesday Twilight league on the Smith-Cotton high school softball diamond, two being shutouts. It appeared the four weaker teams of the league met the four strongest clubs in the Tuesday night games, supervised by the W. P. A. Recreational program.

Tommy Sanders pitching for the Stewart Avenue Markets hand-cuffed the Eugene Field Adso team and his team mates hammered out thirteen runs. The Adso players failed to go any further than third base.

The Missouri Pacific Apprentice Club No. 1 poured it on the Eugene Field Sluggers who dropped the game 14 to 0. Burford and Edwards had little work over being scored on.

Huhsville Athletic club put the LaMonte Vikings on their heels and defeated their county opponents 17 to 7. This was the only seven inning game of the evening the remaining games all being called at the close of the fifth stanza.

Father Stack and his team of Sacred Heart ball players gave the Dresden Rattlesnakes but one lone score, that coming in the first inning. They won 14 to 1.

Doris Hart Should Go Far In Tennis

MIAMI, Fla., June 3—(P)—If practice and strenuous competition will do the trick, Doris Hart ought to go far in the 1942 National Women's Tennis championships.

The tall, 16-year-old Miamian, who hopes to become one of the youngest champions in the game's history, will scarcely lay down her racquet from now until after the National tournament next September.

Possession of perhaps the most severe service in women's tennis, Doris will combine her talent with those of Pauline Betz of Rollins College, the No. 2 player last year, in an effort to win the doubles championship.

She and Miss Betz will have a week's intensive practice together here before making their bow as a doubles combination in the Southern championships at Atlanta June 29.

Requiem Mass In Service For Noted Actor

Women Watch Procession For John Barrymore

By CHARLES McMURTRY
LOS ANGELES, June 3.—(AP)—
Several hundred women, drawn by curiosity and alternately maudlin and ribald, saw John Barrymore carried to his final earthly resting place Tuesday.

The actor said he found women delightful through his 60 years of life. He would have been amazed at the women and the girls who leaned against a restraining rope outside the mausoleum of Calvary cemetery. Many were shabby; sloppily dressed. They ranged in age from crones to teen-age girls;
to small, noisy, dirty children.

The few men present bared their heads as the funeral procession arrived. The women stared.

A few carried cameras. Just after the service ended, a large section broke into ribald laughter.

Barrymore's friends had made an admitted effort to escape such a gathering by publicly stating the funeral would be Monday, then changing the date.

Brief, Simple Ceremony
Barrymore, who died Friday night, was buried with a brief, simple Catholic ceremony. Approximately 100 invited guests were admitted. The Rev. John O'Donnell, pastor of Immaculate Heart Catholic church, said the requiem mass and read the committal ritual. He received the actor back into the Catholic faith
—the religion of John's birth—
last week.

Only relatives present were brother Lionel and daughter Diana, who had seen her father only half a dozen times since infancy and hardly knew him. His sister, Ethel, was unable to make a plane reservation from Boston, where she closed a play Saturday night.

Elaine Barrie Barrymore, John's fourth wife, attended with her mother, Mrs. Edna Jacobs. Her eyes were dry, but sad.

Invited guests included big-name movie figures, little known actors, and workers of whom the

WPB Control Over Imports

Preference For War Essential
Cargoes Intent

WASHINGTON, June 3.—(AP)—
The war production board Tuesday announced it would take control on July 2 over all imports into the United States, compelling foreign vessels to give preference to war-essential cargoes rather than shipments transported primarily for profit.

Among civilian commodities classed as least essential imports, which would be affected by the action, were coffee, cocoa, bananas and beef.

WPB spokesmen said the action, taken in a complete revision of previous import orders, would establish a priority system on shipping space for imports controls over purchases in this country.

Heretofore, controls have been exercised by the war shipping administration through the maritime pool of the united nations, however, some countries—notably, in the western hemisphere, Argentina and Chile—have not entered the pool and this government could not control use of their ships.

Listed In Groups
Commodities for import are listed in three groups, with strategic materials first, essential civilian commodities second, and items of least importance third.

No person, except government agencies, may import items on any of the three lists without first obtaining specific permission from the WPB. The board will be guided in granting permission by the relative importance of the goods involved.

After arrival in this country, items on list one may be sold only to government agencies, or to others upon specific WPB authority. This is substantially the present method of handling these imports.

Items on the second list may be sold without restriction, insofar as the import order is concerned.
Their domestic uses are controlled by other WPB orders except where control is not considered necessary.

Imports may continue to be made on existing contracts for strategic and essential civilian commodities, but contracts for articles classed as least essential will not be allowed to stand; specific authorization for these imports must be obtained for all items in the third group, regardless of existing contracts.

The items on list 3 include certain animal and vegetable fats, canned and corned beef, pickled or cured beef and veal, chicle, cocoa or cacao beans, coffee, raw cotton and cotton waste, butter, cheese, eggs, condensed milk certain fabrics and fibers, bananas, grapes, melons, peaches, pears,

corn rye, certain grain preparations, horsehides, iodine and nitrates.

New 'Win The War' Stamps Be Issued

WASHINGTON, June 3.—(AP)—
A new three-cent postage stamp, with the inscription "Win The War", will be issued on July 4.
Postmaster General Walker announced today.

The central motive will be an American eagle with its wings outstretched to form a large V.
Thirteen stars will encircle the eagle, while the "Win The War" motto will appear in a band across it.

The first day sale will be on July 4 at the Washington postoffice.

Edgar M. Halyburton, Taylorville, N. C., was the first American soldier to be captured in World War I.

Swifts travel more than two miles per minute and are in the air about 19 hours out of 24.

Other creatures have scales and gills, but true fins are possessed by fish alone.
